Holy Year of Mercy

December 8, 2015 - November 20, 2016

Catholic Life and Faith June 2016
Stewards of God's Mercy
by Leisa Anslinger

Attentive to God's Love and Mercy we have reached the halfway point in this Jubilee Year of Mercy. Be honest with yourself: has this year made an impact in the ways in which you recognize or share God's mercy? Like the air we breathe and the passing of days, nights, weeks and months, God's mercy is always with us. In order for this to change us, we must be attentive to God's love and mercy in our daily lives. Being attentive is not always easy, is it? We have responsibilities we must fulfill, people who need us, so many things that surround us that vie for our attention. Being attentive to God and God's action in our lives may feel like another "thing" that has to be done, even while we know that doing so is good for our spiritual well-being. Let us consider small ways in which we may grow in attentiveness, becoming conscious of God's love throughout our days. Morning: Begin the day with a time of prayer. If only for five minutes, take time to be mindful of God's love and mercy. Invite the Holy Spirit to give you an open mind and heart throughout the day, in order to perceive God's grace in your life and to respond to it freely and generously.
