From 1944 to 1946, Father McInenly served as chaplain in the U.S. Navy. When he came out of service he was reassigned to St. Joan of Arc, 1946-68.

In 1968, he was named pastor of St. Pius X, Rosedale, a position he held until 1970.

Bishop Thomas V. Daily was the main concelebrant of the funeral Mass. Others included: Msgr. Martin T. Geraghty and Fathers Anthony C. Casey and Joseph J. Weber.

Father Casey, who delivered the homily, said that "one thing which always impressed me was his tremendous appreciation of what it means to be a priest. He was always very thankful to God for His gift of a vocation to the priesthood."

"He had a wonderful devotion to Christ in the Eucharist," recalled Father Casey. "Even after he suffered a stroke, when he couldn't say Mass alone, he got up early and waited around for someone to come long and concelebrate with him."

"He was a man of deep prayer and deep commitment."

"He was a lot of fun, good with people and always had a great manner and sense of humor, a genuinely delightful guy to be around."

Fr. Johnson had a warm spot in his heart for the younger members of the parish, according to Fr. Dore. "He loved the children and they loved him. Fr. Johnson was very close to them."

LORD make me an instrument of Thy peace; where there is hatred, let me sow, love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sadness, joy.

O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled, as to console; to be understood, as to understand; to be loved, as to love; for it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning that we are pardoned and it is in dying, that we are born to eternal life.

Newly-Appointed Pastor Dies Suddenly

A Mass of Christian Burial for Father Joseph M. Mergler, 48, pastor only since May of St. Pius X Church, Rosedale, was offered Wednesday. He died suddenly Sunday, July 19, ~~SATURDAY JULY 19TH~~.

Born in Brooklyn, Fr. Mergler studied at Cathedral College, Brooklyn, and Immaculate Conception Seminary, Huntington, L.I. He was ordained May 31, 1958. As a curate he served two years at Most Holy Trinity, Brooklyn; nine at Our Lady of Grace, Howard Beach, and from 1969 to 1980 at Mary's Nativity, Flushing.

Fr. Mergler served as South Central Queens Deanery director of the Diocesan Federation of Sodalitys. At the time of his death he was chaplain of Ozone Park Council, K. of C., and the Steven Boylan

General Assembly, Fourth Degree.

Bishop Joseph P. Denning was the principal celebrant of the Mass, with John J. Rudden and Frs. Robert F. Rausch, Richard H. Reder, William J. Davis, Michael H. Clerkin, Joseph Funaro and Joseph P. Graham.

Simple Faith

In the homily, Fr. Reder recalled Fr. Mergler's "unique simplicity and faith. If God said something, that was good enough for Joe. No matter how uptight some of us would get at things in the seminary, Joe, if he was upset would never show it. His attitude always seemed to be one of God will provide.

"For Joe Mergler being a priest was God's greatest gift. He returned the gift by being a good priest.

"Why was Fr. Mergler taken from us when he had so much more he could have done? I don't know but I do know what Joe would tell us-God will provide."

Msgr. James Asip, director of the Propagation of the Faith, recalled Fr. Mergler's support for a special program of the South Ozone Park K. of C. which helped educate a seminarian abroad.

"Every year, he would have a Mass in the Council chambers," said Msgr. Asip. "I would attend and concelebrate with him and then accept a check for the annual payment of the program. Its first recipient even became a Montfort bishop in Africa."

Msgr. Asip recalled that although Fr. Mergler "could appear to be serious and solemn, he was actually jolly and had a very good sense of humor. He proved to be a very popular chaplain at the Council."

Msgr. Hardiman, who was first assigned to St. Pius V when Msgr. Graham was pastor, recalled him "as one of the finest priests I have ever met. He was a down-to-earth, pastoral guy who was always concerned about the people. He would do anything for the people. He even learned a little Portuguese and a little Spanish so that he could celebrate Mass in those languages.

"He always had a prayerful disposition and was always so positive. He was happy to get out and work the parishioners.

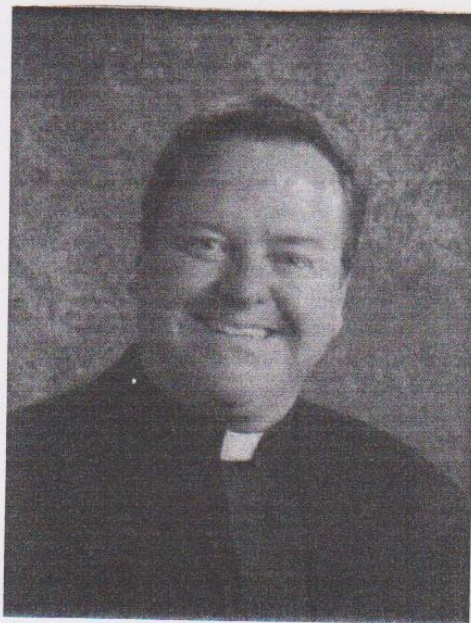

"He also was very well-read and could be very opinionated about theology because he kept so up-to-date with it."

FATHER JOSEPH CRISAFULLI WITH ST. PIUS X FOLK GROUP.

Born in Flatbush, Brooklyn, Father Joseph Crisafulli, Associate Pastor of St. Pius X, is the oldest of three children who are both close in age and very close as personal friends. Father Joe grew up in Kew Gardens Hills, a predominately Jewish neighborhood where his family still lives. Father Joe describes his childhood, growing and sharing with his Jewish neighbors as giving him a unique advantage -- the ability to see his Christianity in terms of a Jewish background and reflect the Jewish origins in his goals for the priesthood.

Father Crisafulli began his education at P.S. 164 (Queens Valley School) and graduated from Queen of Peace School. He attended Cathedral Prep, Cathedral College and completed his studies for the priesthood at Immaculate Conception Seminary in Huntington.

His high school nickname "Michelangelo" clearly announced Father Joe's intense excitement and interest in art. "I learned to draw before I learned to write" says Father Joe, who spent his first two years of college studying painting under a private foundation grant. The fruit of this study has taken the form of a course in art and architecture which Father Crisafulli has taught for the past three years at the seminary high school in Elmhurst. The course which is based on Father Joe's college study, traces Western culture and civilization by examining art - the development of man's image of himself and of his God through the ages.

Though Father Crisafulli has worked in over ten different parish situations, St. Pius X is his first assignment as a priest. As priest, as a member of the St. Pius X community, Father Joe describes his role as "a liberating mission, a gentle mission." His challenge, his task and his hope is "to bring to individual people the great joy of knowing how much God loves them at their root as the only real source of freedom for them to live and be themselves. Father Joe confidently describes the St. Pius X community as a real center of faith, and reflects on his experiences here: "What I am today as a believer is so much more than what I came here with as a priest. I came here looking to serve, looking to grow and looking to give. What happened to me here now and who I am now is so intimately the result of the people with whom I have shared these past three years... I have been transformed by them and they have ministered to me - You have touched me, I have grown."

Born in Brooklyn, Fr. McDade studied at Cathedral College and Immaculate Conception Seminary, Huntington, L.I. Following ordination June 3, 1950, he served at Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal, Brooklyn; St. Mary Star of the Sea, Far Rockaway; St. Pius X and St. Clare, both Rosedale.

Bishop Charles R. Mulrooney was the principal celebrant with Frs. John H. Maurer, William E. Walsh, Francis J. Flynn, John J. O'Sullivan, James J. Haggarty, Charles A. Bleilevens, George T. Voiland and Michael J. Phillips.

Priestly Spirituality

In his homily, Fr. McDade's long-time classmate and friend Bishop Gerald J. Ryan, auxiliary of Rockville Centre, referred to the National Bishops' booklet Spiritual Renewal of the American Priesthood "which defines priestly spirituality as the living out each day of the implications of Christ's presence in our midst, a living out of the suffering, the dying and the Resurrection of Jesus.

"There were moments of great joy - a Resurrection - like his first assignment in Ridgewood and there was pain and suffering when he left there.

Fr. McDade

"But there was joy again when the bishop appointed him to go back home to Greenpoint where he grew up in St. Anthony's parish, to be pastor of St. Cecilia's."

Bishop Ryan applied the biblical quotation "Where your treasure is, there your heart is," to Fr. McDade's life.

"The treasures of his life," said Bishop Ryan, "were his Lord, his church, his priesthood and his family. His heart was always in the right place."

31-Year-Old Priest Dies Suddenly in Bensonhurst

A Mass of Christian Burial for Father James R. Michael, 31, parochial vicar of St. Finbar's Church, Brooklyn, was offered there.

Father Michael died suddenly (July 17) after a brief illness in Flatbush General Hospital, Brooklyn.

Born in Brooklyn, he studied at Holy Family school (14th St.), and Cathedral Prep Seminary; Cathedral College, Douglaston and Immaculate Conception Seminary, Huntington, L.I. He was ordained Oct. 13, 1979.

Following his ordination, he was assigned to St. Pius X parish, Rosemead, serving there for five years. Since October 1984 he served Holy Cross, Brooklyn, St. Finbar's.

Bishop Mugavero was the principal celebrant. Other concelebrants were: Father John R. Dreasen, Michael M. Greaney, George R. Schinkel, Anthony J. Failla and Denis M. Dore.

Classmate Remembers

Father James Mannion of St. Bernadette, Levittown, preached the homily according to Father Dreasen, a classmate and friend of Father Michael, "spoke of Father Michael as a storyteller, a prophet and myth."

Father Mannion told how Father Michael had lived out his life with the same faith as Jesus had lived His.

As members of the same priests' support group, Fathers Michael, Mannion and Dreasen were "very good friends." It was the strong faith and personality of Father Michael that Father Dreasen remembered most.

Honesty Appreciated

Young people related to Father Michael strongly because "they saw he was a genuine person who was blunt and honest," said Father Dreasen.

"They (young people) knew where they stood with him and they appreciated it," said Dreasen.

This "down to earth" approach, according to Father Dreasen, also made him popular with older people.

MONSIGNOR WILLIAM FLOOD WAS FIFTY SEVEN YEARS
A PRIEST.

OUR VICAR MONSIGNOR WILLIAM J. FLOOD

I am quite sure that everyone here at St. Pius X Parish knows and will recognize Monsignor William J. Flood. He comes practically every Sunday to say Mass. Every time he comes we wonder what object he will bring with him to get his message across in his sermon.

Monsignor Flood was born in the Bronx on April 23, 1931. He was raised in Blessed Sacrament Parish, Jackson Heights, where he attended the parochial school. He attended Bishop Loughlin High School and then went on to attend St. Francis College, Brooklyn, and Immaculate Conception Seminary, Huntington, New York.

Monsignor Flood was ordained a priest on June 1, 1957 at St. James Cathedral, Brooklyn. He served at St. Brigid's Parish in Ridgewood from 1957 until 1962. He studied at the Catholic University Washington, D.C. from 1962 to 1963. He then was assigned to Cathedral Preparatory Seminary and served there until 1977. Meanwhile in June of 1971, he was appointed Administrator of St. James Cathedral, Brooklyn serving from 1971 to 1976.

Monsignor William J. Flood was appointed Pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Parish, Brooklyn, and served there from 1976 to 1981. In January, 1982 he was appointed Vicar of Vicariate E with residence at Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica. Along with the four other Vicars of the Brooklyn Diocese, he works and assists the Bishop with all of the needs and problems of the individual parishes. Just as the Vice-President assists the President, the five Vicars work with the Bishop as his assistants. The Vicar works with all of the priests of the parishes assigned to him. He works with the priests in relation to any problems they might have. He also works with them in relation to assignments to the different parishes.

Monsignor Flood said that by being a Vicar you learn a lot about the burdens of the Bishop. You also learn about the tremendous sacrifices made by all of the priests.

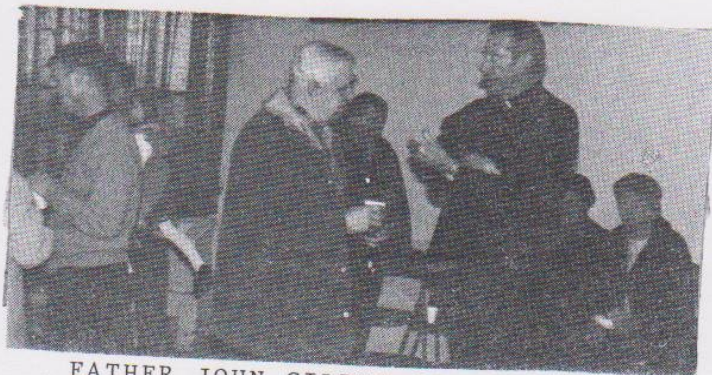

Monsignor Flood's only brother is a Jesuit Priest at Fordham Preparatory School. He said that in the past in his spare time he liked to keep in shape by playing handball and paddle ball. Now if he has any spare time he enjoys swimming.

When Monsignor Flood first came to St. Pius X Parish someone said to him "You are going to meet really great people." Besides coming on Sundays he has come during Holy Week and he helped out a lot when Father Denis Dore was sick about two years ago. He has attended quite a few Confirmations at St. Pius X including our last one with Bishop Sullivan on March 26, 1985. We hope that Monsignor William Flood will continue coming to St. Pius Parish. We enjoy his happy smile and his wonderful sermons.

Thou Art a Priest Forever

"To live in the midst of the world without wishing its pleasures; to be a member of each family, yet belonging to none; to share all sufferings; to penetrate all secrets; to heal all wounds; to go from men to God and offer Him their prayers; to return from God to men to bring pardon and hope; to have a heart of fire for charity and a heart of bronze for chastity; to teach and to pardon, console and bless always—what a glorious life! And it is yours. O Priest of Jesus Christ!"

Father Dore

"Wherever you went out with him, people knew him and stopped to talk with him. They were former students, friends and parishioners."

Father Dore was known to have tremendous energy for work. Later in his life, he continued to bring Communion to the sick. He particularly enjoyed conversations with people. He loved to take the time to talk and reminisce.

Father O'Brien said that all who knew Father Dore feel very fortunate to have known him. He recalled that one of Father Dore's gifts was that he was always willing to go out of his way. Father O'Brien felt blessed to have had Father Dore as his friend. He said Father Dore went the extra mile and never counted the inconvenience, even towards the end of his life when he was not feeling well.

Father Dore is survived by his sister, Mary Dore, of Fresh Meadows.

Burial was in Mount St. Mary's Cemetery, Flushing.

We have a priest that comes to celebrate the Spanish Mass on Sundays at 3 P.M. His name is Fr. Roberto Cadavi.

During the beginning of July 2015, we had a priest Fr. Michel Pierre Louis come to help. He celebrated Mass on Sundays and a few of the daily Masses during the week.

We have had so many bishops priests and vicars coming to St. Pius X parish since it began in 1960. They came for special occasions, Masses, baptisms, first Communions, Confirmations, Weddings, Funerals, retreats, etc. They came to serve the parish. Being assigned here they came from all over the world for summer visits. We thank you one and all. For all those who have died, may you rest in peace. For those who are alive, may you continue this work of spreading the Word of God to everyone. Thank you.

God Bless you all,

Evelyn McCuelpin
